INSTITUTE THE BEST IN YEARS

With a glowing tribute to Joyce Kilmer, the great Catholic poet, Dr. F. H. Stutz, of Dayton, made the concluding address of the Teachers' Institute on Friday morning.

The speaker dwelt on the depth of Kilmer's personality and read extracts from his works. His praise for this poet was of the highest.

This year's institute was one of the finest in years, the officials say. Dr. Stutz, Dr. Grawn, and Dr. Moore endeared themselves to the teachers by their sound, intellectual speeches, these men are of the highest types of educators.

The final business of the institute was as follows:

J. Hazlbaker, Eldred, and W. A. Brownell, Smethport, were contended as auditors.

Supervising Principal Ralph S. Dewey of Kane, Supervising Principal C. J. Alderfer of Port Allegany, and Miss Carrie A. Day of Smethport were elected delegates to the State Educational Association at Altoona, December 27-29.

CLARION NORMAL REUNION.

The following is a contributed account of the reunion of graduates of the Clarion Normal School during Teachers' Institute here:

At the appointed hour, 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening, a large number of Clarion Normal alumni, together with the corps of instructors of the McKean county institute, Supt. and Mrs. C. W. Lillibridge, Dr. Green and our own Dr. Ballentine, of Clarion, assembled in the basement of the Methodist Church to renew acquaintances and once more enjoy the annual banquet. Seated around tables made beautiful by Hallowe'en decorations we enjoyed a dinner served by the ladies of the church, followed by toasts by Supt. Lillibridge, Drs. Greene, Yoder, Stutz, Grawn and Ballentine.

School yells and songs enlivened the evening and a delightful time enjoyed by all.

GUESSING CONTEST AT HALLSTROM'S STORE ATTRACTS

Miss Mary McCarthy, A. J. Hyatt and Mrs. J. M. Wiant were the winners in the guessing contest at the Hallstrom Hardware store last week.

These persons guessed closest the number of bristles in three different paint brushes displayed on date mentioned in last week's Miner.

The prizes winners received for each paint to cover one room which was a good return for the time they had. The contest was held to advertise a brand of paint.

One of the brushes had 18,000 bristles, another 21,000 bristles and another about 22,000.

Mrs. Wiant came within 75 of being correct.

INTERNATIONAL CONOPUS OFFICER TO SPEAK HERE.

Ray Van Benschoten, vice-president of the International Conopus club, and secretary of the Syracuse, N. Y., club will be the speaker at the meeting of the local Conopus club on Monday.

The speaker comes well recommended, and although his topic is not known he is certain to have a message of interest. A good attendance is hoped for.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE.

This year the sale of Christmas Seals has been placed in the hands of the Travelers Club of our town.

These seals will be ready in a few days and put before the people by responsible persons.

The Club women wish the people to know that these are the only official seals and that the profits from this sale are to be spent on the work in our own town and county.

We hope that our town people will not make contributions to go outside of town.

Buy these seals and thus help fight tuberculosis in your own town and vicinity.

SWEDISH MISSION CHURCH SEEKS PASTOR IN VAIN

For several months the congregation of the Swedish Mission Church has been without a pastor, but has shown an admirable spirit of faith and devotion by continuing to hold services on Sundays and Thursday, while the efforts to secure a new minister seem in vain.

Since Rev. Emil G. Winstedt, the former pastor went to another charge at De Kalb, Ind., last July, the members have found it difficulty to obtain a favorable reply to their inquiry as to a new pastor, owing to a very evident lack of available ministers.

Members of the other denominations have been heard on all sides to comment favorably on the splendid spirit shown by the congregation in their regular attendance, and frequently the hope has been expressed that this strength of belief be rewarded by the coming of a new pastor.

G. C. DOUGLASS RECEIVES HIS SON'S VICTORY MEDAL

G. C. Douglass storekeeper of East Smethport, last Friday received the Victory Medal intended for his dead son, Loy Douglass, who died of illness in a hospital in France during the World War, after making a heroic record.

The inscription on the medal indicates that the young soldier took part in the heavy fighting around St. Mihiel, the Meuse-Argonne and in a defensive sector.

The medal is being laid away among Mr. and Mrs. Douglass' possessions.

The son's body was brought back from France, and buried here.

He had been a member of Company B, Three Hundred and Fifteenth Machine Gun Battalion.

BRADFORD THEATER.

The greatest success in generations—"The Bat" by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood, will be presented by Wagenhals and Kemper on November 18 and 19 at Bradford.

"The Bat" now in its second year in New York and with a record of one solid year in Chicago to its credit has smashed, not only theatrical traditions but records as well. "The Bat," is not only in a class by itself so far as the length of its runs are concerned but it is absolutely the undisputed leader of all dramatic plays in point of total attendance and gross receipts. More than 1,000,000 have paid something more than $1,500,000 to see it. And the end is no where in sight.

"The Bat" comes here, heralded by critics and public alike as the greatest play of its kind ever produced. And it more than lives up to its reputation.

ELECTION RETURNS FROM COUNTY AND OTHER DISTRICTS

Approximately 300 votes were cast in Smethport on last Tuesday, which is considered a good showing owing to the few contests.

Dan M. Brasted was elected mayor of Smethport, and James Nellis, John Karlen, C. W. Shattuck, and A. L. Abbey are the new councilmen. Mrs. Bessie C. Daly ran ahead of her competitors.

Friends of Claude H. Heath, of Smethport, declare that incomplete returns throughout the county show that he will be elected jury commissioner although he ran behind his opposition in Bradford.

It is thought that Mrs. Della Spanogle lost her fight for Clerk of Court against J. L. Morrison. She ran behind in both Bradford and Smethport but made a good showing.

In Sergeant township the real contest was between Godfrey Hartman and Edward Johnson for the office of road supervisor. The former received 51 votes, and the latter 48. STORES TO CLOSE DURING AFTERNOON ON ARMISTICE DAY

Practically all the stores and places of business have announced their intention of closing their doors tomorrow afternoon in celebration of Armistice Day.

The movement was started in cooperation with Bucktail Post, American Legion, which asked everyone to join in the celebration of the day.

Storekeepers and business men believing that it was their duty to allow their clerks and themselves a chance to join in the events and entertainments on the holiday program, decided to shut up shop.

GEORGE W. HEWITT TO SAIL FOR BURMA SOON.

Mr. George W. Hewitt, of this place, who has spent the past few years in Oklahoma engaged in the oil business, will soon set sail for Burma, India, where he will stay for three years.

Although he will be employed by a different company, Mr. Hewitt expects to locate in the same region where Mr. Frank Potter, Sr., and Frank Potter, Jr., are now working after arriving a short time ago.

Mr. Hewitt has signed up with the Burma Oil Company of London. In Oklahoma he was employed by West Brothers. He has had large experience in the oil business and his success is practically assured.

He will remain with his mother in Smethport until his passport arrives.

COUNCIL DELAYS VOTE ON ELECTRICITY PROPOSITION

Owing to the absence of several members of the Borough Council on last Monday evening, it was decided to take a final vote on the electrical proposition as presented by J. Clayton Backus on next Monday evening and it is hoped that a full council will give unanimous sanction.

Mr. Backus went into the various phases of the situation and explained just what was yet needed to actually begin construction.

SIX FAIRWAYS OF GOLF COURSE ALREADY COMPLETED

Fine results are being accomplished at the grounds of the Smethport Country Club, six fairways and three greens have been finished. The entire aspects of the grounds have been changed, and now the old Brennan farm is an entirely different looking place than a few weeks ago.

Quite a number of persons who expected to play, and have joined the club have been visiting the new course almost daily watching the progress of its construction with interest and anxiously awaiting the day when play will begin.

The following is a copy of a letter sent to various persons this week:

It is quite necessary that all who gave in their names or signed up as a member of the Smethport Country Club send in their check promptly.

"Fifty dollars entitles you to membership and gives you one share of stock in the Club property.

About 50 per cent has paid in and as the property was paid for out of that account it leaves us short of funds to complete the work which must be done now to avoid delay in the spring.

We have six greens and fair ways nearly finished now.

Mail your check to the Secretary at once and keep the work going.

Very truly yours,
J. W. BOUTON, Pres.

HENS ON STRIKE SHORTER HOURS, MAYBE.

The scarcity of eggs in town has been very noticeable during the past week or two.

The farmers report that practically all their hens are "laying" down on the job, and therefore, the local storekeepers are hard put to it to supply their customers' demand.

NOTICE.

There will be a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion Monday evening, November 14th at Holders Hall.

FINE PROGRAM ON ARMISTICE DAY, NOV. 11

Preparation Being Made for Day of Both Solmenity and Celebration In Fitting Commemoration of Great Holiday.

The Armistice Day celebration tomorrow is going to be second to none held here since that memorable cessation of hostilities, and it is the duty of every citizen to make it a success by being present in town and joining whole-heartedly in the various entertainments and events.

To show the members of Bucktail Post and other ex-service men that their war deeds and actions have not been forgotten, each local person should remain in Smethport to celebrate this holiday instead of going elsewhere.

An excellent program has been provided, and compared to the events of other nearby towns, it would show to an advantage.

The officials of the post ask that all citizens, business men and the churches join in the prayer for the dead soldiers at noon, when for two minutes everyone is asked to remain still, and remember the departed.

The parade will begin at 1:30 o'clock from the Hose House. The order of formation will be as follows: Marshall, E. G. Potter; Smethport Band; Bucktail Post, American Legion and other ex-service men; veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American Wars; Women's Auxiliary, Bucktail Post; Boy Scouts; school children.

Following the parade the afternoon entertainment program in the Lyceum will be as follows:

Chairman of the day, Dr. Robert Hamilton.

March—Stars and Stripes Forever by Smethport Band.

Invocation, Rev. W. E. VanDyke.

Song, The Recessional, double quartette.

Song—America, by assembly.

Greetings—The American Legion, E. G. Potter.

Memories, Old Sons of the A. E. F., by assembly.

Selected Tableaux.

Address—Judge David J. Dowd, Salamanca, N. Y.

The Flag of the Free—Supervised by Mrs. Robert Hamilton.

The Star Spangled Banner—Assembly.

Benediction, Rev. Arthur Gregson.

The Lyceum will be attractively decorated, and will heated, as fires will be lighted early in order to have the entire building at a comfortable temperature.

The afternoon entertainment is absolutely free and open to the public. Local persons should attend in large number, as the entertainment events and the speeches will be well worth witnessing.

The banquet at 6:30 o'clock for the ex-service men to be served by the Women's Auxiliary, Bucktail Post, will be another feature of the day. An excellent menu, consisting of the following, will be served: cream tomato soup, saltines, steamed fish with egg sauce, baked meat loaf, brown gravy, mashed potatoes, celery, pickles, pumpkin pie with whipped cream, cheese, coffee, mints.

The dance at night is expected to draw crowds from the nearby countryside so that the floor will be filled. Good music has been procured, and there will be no lack of fun and merry-making to complete the holiday in fitting style.

MARMON 34

Yes—there is Something NEW in Closed Cars

Nothing radically new—but advancements that are logical and just a year or two ahead of the times.

That summarizes our new offerings of Marmon Sedans, Coupes, Suburbans and other closed types.

Their appearance of lowness and lightness is a pleasant contrast to the top-heavy, clumsy, heavy models which have been prevalent.

Their improved vision is appealing. As one sits at the driver's seat one is inclined to wonder why obstructing corners remained in vogue so long. In the new Marmons there is added driving comfort and safety.

Throughout there are advancements that give these new-type Marmons first place among high grade cars. There are improvements which make one realize that these Marmons set the pace and are therefore the choicest offerings of the season.

Don't delay in seeing them—and in making comparisons.

TANNERY ENGINEER VICTIM OF TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Kane, Nov. 4.—August Westerberg, of Wilcox, employed as an engineer in the Elk Tannery company's tannery at that placemet with a terrible accident late yesterday afternoon, and had his left arm so badly mangled that an amputation near the shoulder was necessary.

At the time of the accident, Mr. Westerberg, who is 56 years of age, was alone in the engine room, and was either oiling one of the two big gas engines while it was in motion or was in the act of doing something else around the engine which required his attention, and had his arm caught in one of the gears in such a manner that his sleeve was fast and he was gradually drawn into the engine as he resisted and called for help. His cries were heard very soon and he was saved from a horrible death by the timely arrival of another employee who quickly shut off the power and rushed to the man's assistance.

He was given first aid and then taken to the Kane Summit hospital on the train from the east, due to arrive here at 6.30. Amputation followed, and despite the fact that the patient is well up in years and that he lost a considerable amount of blood, besides suffering from shock, he is resting quite comfortably.

GLASS BUSINESS IS ON THE BOOM NOW.

National Glass Budget: The volume of business during the last week in the window glass industry has continued up to or beyond expectations, so far as demand is concerned. Both hand and machine plants that are operating continue to get out large productions which in turn is being shipped promptly to jobbers and dealers who, in all parts of the country are said to have lower stocks than at any other time during the past decade. Business is said to be booming in the east. Jobbers report that there has never been a more active demand for glass than at present.

Inquiries among plate glass manufacturers indicate that in addition to the good domestic demand that there is quite a fair call for export. Japan, in spite of its unsettled condition, is placing large orders for plate glass in this country. New business is also reported in fair quantities from Argentina, Australia and other markets.

BRADFORD PASTOR LEAVES.

Bradford, Nov. 7.—Rev. Fred R. McArthur, for seven years pastor of the First Baptist church in this city announced at the morning service in his church yesterday that he had received and accepted a call from another congregation and that he wished to be released on December 1, to take up the duties of his new position. The announcement came as a surprise to the congregation and many expressions of regret were heard.

Rev. Mr. McArthur explained that the Baptist church of Bethlehem, Pa. had been urging him since last June to take up the work in that city, and had finally convinced him that it was really God's call to a great opportunity for service.

BAD MAN FULL OF LIQUOR RAISES PARTICULAR "HOB"

Olean, Nov.—An automatic revolver, and a quantity of "moonshine" landed Thomas Kraft, 37 years old, and Henry Connell, 32, both of this city, in a cell at police headquarters.

The two men were arrested in the front of the Ross block on North Union street by Officers Blakslee and Grandusky following a complaint by residents of that district that a shooting affray was in progress.

When taken to the station it was claimed that they had been filled with bad whiskey and that Kraft had fired three shots at Connell.

KANE PUBLIC SHOWS ITS APPRECIATION OF BOARD

Kane, Nov. 4.—If any doubts existed in the minds of the present Board of Education members, it was expelled last night at a meeting in the High School building.

The 75 or 100 persons present at the meeting represented every walk of local life and the spontaneous expression of commendation and confidence extended to the members of the board on that occasion should remove every trace of the sting of unjust criticism and ingratitude as well as the implied question of their integrity involved in the objections filed to the auditor's report of the school district and signed by five citizens of Kane.

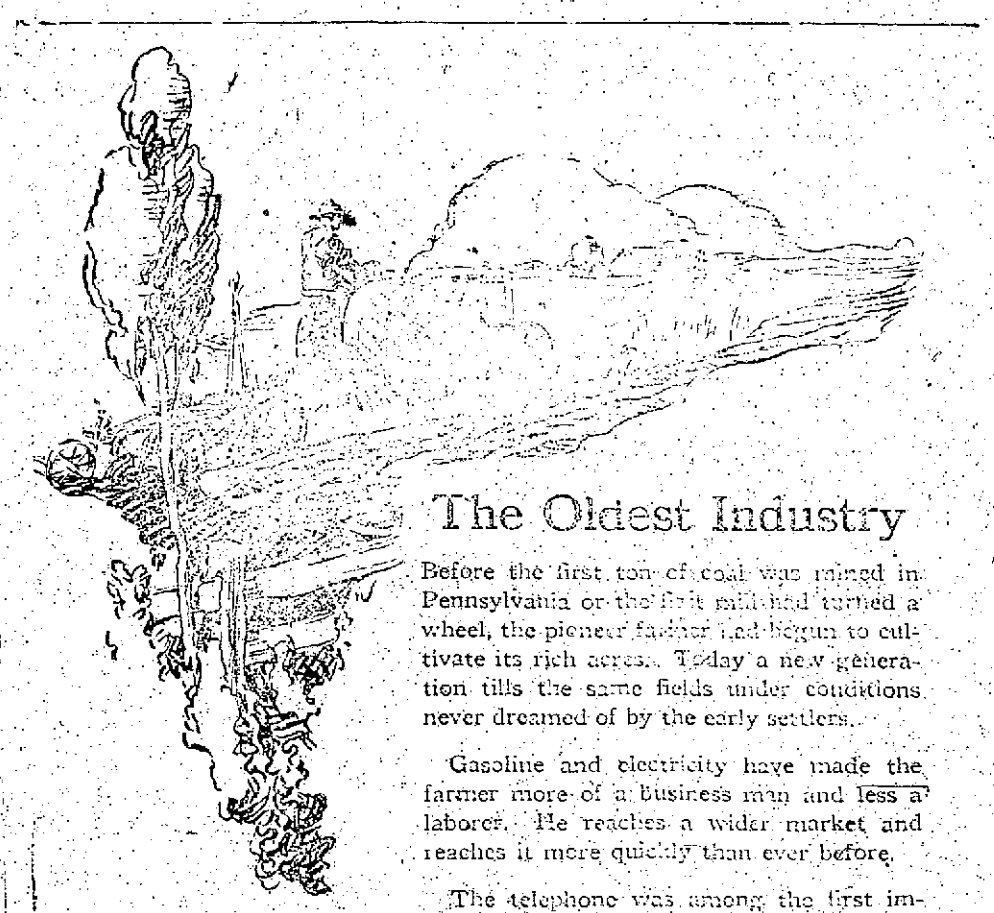
It was to publicly consider these objections that the Board of Education called a meeting at which showing their absolute willingness to submit every detail of their administration of school affairs and funds to public scrutiny and it was indeed unfortunate that none of the instigators or signers of these objections was present to listen to the clear, concise and candid statements regarding all the school affairs involved which far from implying negligence, carelessness or the hint of dishonesty, revealed the fact that Dr. J. M. Helmbach, Dr. L. H. Buck, Charles L. Eckman, J. E. Henrietta, Frederick Kime and Dr. Thomas L. Kane have given the most conscientious attention to their duties, and administered the affairs of the school district in a manner so efficient and economical as to win the admiration of every person present.

FIRE DRIVES FAMILY INTO STREET IN NIGHT CLOTHES

Olean, Nov. 4.—Clad only in their night clothing, Joseph Glore and the members of his family were driven from their home at No. 201 King street by fire at 2 o'clock today, which caused damage of $2,000.

The origin of the fire is uncertain.

When the firemen arrived, the fire was raging fiercely on the first floor. After a hard battle of two hours, it was extinguished.



The Oldest Industry

Before the first ton of coal was mined in Pennsylvania or the first mill had turned a wheel, the pioneer farmer had begun to cultivate its rich acres. Today a new generation tills the same fields under conditions never dreamed of by the early settlers.

Gasoline and electricity have made the farmer more of a business man and less a laborer. He reaches a wider market and reaches it more quickly than ever before.

The telephone was among the first improvements to come to his aid. It puts him in quick communication with his neighbors and with the buyers of his produce. It takes him to the city and in a measure brings the city to him. The farm has been robbed of its isolation and lonesomeness.

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania has kept pace with the State's progress, and often has been the advance guard of a community's development. The growth of every section may be measured by the extension of its telephone service.

MAN BREAKS INTO BANK —WITH HIS AUTOMOBILE

Bradford, Nov. 5.—Adolph Langner, of Bolivar Run, was fined $16.50 in police court last night for breaking into the Commercial National Bank. In fairness to Mr. Langner, however, it should be explained that he did not break into the bank of his own accord. His automobile which got beyond his control, performed the actual crime.

The spectacular bank-entering was staged about 7 o'clock in the evening. After knocking over a pile of brick on Main street, Langner's car careened across the sidewalk and it crashed through the entrance of the bank. Mr. Langner promptly backed out again, and swung his machine into Pine street and kept right on going until the retaining wall on the bank of the Tuna prevented the car and driver from taking a header into that stately stream.

When the temperamental car finally came to a stop, Patrolman Scott Sherman proceeded to place the unruly chariot and the owner under arrest. He was arraigned before the judge on a charge of reckless driving and fined. The car required extensive repairs, although the owner was unhurt but for a few minor injuries.

GRADE CROSSING AT ELDRED ELIMINATED

Harrisburg, Nov. 4.—The Public Service Comission today issued order providing for the elimination of two grade crossings on the Buffalo division of the Pennsylvania railroad near Eldred, McKean county. The plans provide for the relocation of the highway and one crossing at an expense of $21,920.25. The Pennsylvania Railroad company is assessed $11,000; state highway department, $3,00; Eldred township, $1,500; Eldred borough $1,000 and the Public Service commission gives $500. The McKean county commissioners are to do the work and the township and borough are to be liable for property damages and rights of way.

BRADFORD TEACHER RESIGNS

Bradford, Nov. 5.—At last evening's regular session of the Board of Public School directors, the resignation of Miss Maria Copeland, teacher of civics and English in the Bradford High School, was received and accepted, and Miss Fitzgerald, of Kane, a former teacher in the local school was elected to fill the vacancy.

The board voted to make next Friday, Armistice Day, a school holiday. Dates were also fixed for the Thanksgiving recess and Christmas vacation, November 24 and 25 for the former, and December 17 to January 2, inclusive, the period for the latter.

ELDRED—LARABEE CONCRETE ROAD NOW COMPLETED

The concrete work on the south Main street job was completed at about 6.30 o'clock last Saturday evening, and the shrill little whistle on the ponderous concrete mixer did its best to celebrate the event in a fitting manner by tooting itself nearly hoarse. Mr. Colgan, the contractor is congratulating himself on finishing the job before the weather got very bad, which it did on the following Monday.

The south Main street work known as section 2 of route No. 240 of the state highway, is 5,311 feet long. Work of concreting this began on September 20 and completed on October 29. The road is 18 feet wide and has shoulders on each side 5 feet wide. C. V. Burkmeister and Mr. Karney were the state inspectors on the job.

This section joins section No. 1 at the southern boundary of the borough and continues to Larabee. This first section was started last year but the work progressed under difficulties.

Messrs. Lonah and Bailey, of the state highway department, who have examined the new road are reported to have said that it is one of the finest pieces of construction in the country. F. J. Bradley has been superintendent in charge.

FIRE THREATENS DYNAMITE PLANT AT EMPORIUM

Emporium, Nov. 5.—Fire broke out at the Emporium Dynamite plant of the Hercules Powder company last night and the Ballistic Pendulum building of the Research department was burned, the fire for a time threatened other portions of the plant. The fire department of the plant put out the flames before they had a chance to gain further headway. The property damage amounted to not more than a few hundred dollars, and will not in any way hinder the operations of the plant.

ARMISTICE DAY.

Truly a day deserving to be a holiday is November 11.

It bespeaks the memory of heoric deeds of men who gave their all to a just and a noble cause.

Therefore, it is only fitting and right that the whole world should each year on a certain anniversary revert to the memories and scenes of that first Armistice Day, which brought joy and peace to the world once more, after years of strife and unrest.

And by gathering together and always reviving these scenes, we will show to the men who served that we have not forgotten the part they played in the struggle, which indeed was one for the safety of all mankind.

A beautiful custom, also, is that of having the entire country sacrifice two minutes of its momentous business on November 11, to be given in prayer for the dead soldiers who paid in terms of blood the price of that peace which was brought to us.

Therefore, don't forget at noon tomorrow to bow and actually pray for the souls who were sacrificed to make Armistice day possible.

MORE GOOD ROADS.

The Senate has adopted the conference report on good roads and the measure now goes to the President. There is no doubt that it will receive his approval.

The bill carres an appropriation of $75,000,000 to be expended in federal aid to the states. There is to be $25,000,000 available immediately and the remaining amount will be forthcoming next January. An additional appropriation of $15,000,000 has been made for forrest roads and trails. No state will receive its allotment which does not give adequate assurance that the roads will be maintained properly.

Meanwhile state and country road projects are going ahead almot everywhere. At last it begins to look as if the great road building era so long predicted were really at hand. The new federal appropriations in connection with those of the states should mean an upbuilding and improvement of the highways of the United States speeding every phase of business and communication. What is more, a program for enforced maintenance of the roads when they are built will mean that good roads are here to stay.—Bradford Era.

A FLASH LIGHT ON ELECTRICITY.

One night last week while wending our weary way home on East Main street, we chanced upon a citizen carefully feeling his way uptown with a flash light through the heavy blanket of darkness which spread over Smethport on every night except the moonlit ones.

This gentleman is really typical of Smethport's poorly lighted condition at present. He was groping in the darkness, armed with a feeble ray, and seeking the light.

So thus is Smethport doing at present. Do we need to say again that electricity is vital.

Next Monday the borough council will vote favorably on the lighting proposition, and we hope that all the members will be present and make a unanimous decision for progress and electricity.

DON'T THE DEMOCRATS DO SOME FUNNY THINGS.

Dansville, N. Y., Nov 8.— Democrats of the town of North Dansville were today voting for a dead man. Jacob H. Smith, their candidate for town clerk died Sunday morning.

LET US PRAY.

That the disarmament conference may have the sanction and protection of the All-High, and that its work be made clear to it so that dispatch may speed the coming of newer, more civilized age.

That the delegates from near and far may approach the subjects laid out for them by President Harding with fair, unbiased and open minds—with the good of the world at heart, forgetting the petty demands of their native countries which tend to defeat the great purposes of Humanity and Peace.

That all mankind, realizing that in the defeat of this conference lies the almost certain prospect of another world war into which the United States may be drawn and the awful horror of another such conflict be renacted upon the screen of life's stage.

That the prayers of a million mothers avail and the tears of past war sorrows wash away the blight of war forever, and the spirits of those brave men who died in France rise up at the table of Peace and defy the delegates to allow war—the cancer of civilization to proceed unrestrained when it is now in their power to forever prevent it.

That these great minds assembled will build for themselves an eternal monument of wisdom and honor by accomplishing the dreams of centuries and forever wipe away the memory of conflict, supplanting as the emblem of both hemispheres the Dove of Peace.

Let us pray.

CONVERSE WITH THEIR TAILS

Student of Natural History Writes of His Observations of Dogs and Other Animals.

Any who have seen a pack of wolves in full cry must have noticed the eager waving of their tails, evidently to enable the pack to keep together, and possibly for purposes of mutual encouragement. Fire a bullet into one of the leaders and see how quickly all the flags are drooped, and the creatures get out of the way, each for himself. If you notice, the fox, who has a magnificent tail, does not raise it aloft at all. He is a solitary hunter and uses his brush chiefly for a muffler, to keep his feet and nose warm. But your dog does a good deal of his talking with his tail. You can follow his very thoughts, does do think, you know, by watching his tail. Just as I have carried on long and useful conversations with occasional Indians of strange tribes by observing the movements of face, shoulders and hands, I have an idea that animals were intended to communicate with each other mainly by using their tails. The vertebrae through which the brain projects much of its direction and knowledge extends to the tip of the tail. The tail is, therefore, in direct and constant contact with the controlling power of the animal.—Montreal Family Herald.

"NEW-WOMAN" IDEA IN CHINA

Modern Agitators Work Along Lines That Would Rid Orient of "Clinging Vines."

About the only thing of modern times to which China has not laid claim as being so old in that country that it was outworn and discarded centuries ago, is the new woman with a magazine of her very own, published in the interest of her development. This publication, observes the Pittsburgh Dispatch, called the New Woman, boldly states as its object the reform of the old society to give a more honorable place to women, and the new woman is described as "a joyous being, of honest occupation, complete personality, free, independent and mutually helpful."

Yet the new woman of China comes in for some criticism, for among the things she is exhorted to cultivate are plain living and dressing, which, the writer goes on to say, was the rule in old China, but that now women wish to keep up with the styles and wear jewels. They are reminded that the chief thing about good dressing is to to wear clean clothing. Another admonition to the new woman of China which might indicate she is prone to err, just like the new woman of any other land, is that she put far away from her the desire for empty glory of "face."

In other respects the things commended for the new woman seem to be along the same lines as in other lands—the cultivation of strength of will to go outside the home and mingle with others and take part in public affairs, and to discard the clinging-vine habit of looking to the men for everything.

HAY FEVERITES MADE TOWN

Chance Discovery Had Great Effect on the Building Up of Petoskey, Mich.

A most unwelcome visitor, is hay fever. With its advent a vast army of hay feverites move northward: some to the Maine woods, some to Mackinac Island, and points further north, and many to Petoskey, Mich., or its immediate vicinity, which seems to be a most popular camping ground for sufferers from the "hay."

We met a real old lady there a few summers ago, who told us that she believed she was the first person to discover that the Petoskey atmosphere had a curative effect on hay fever; she was a sufferer with that disease herself and more than fifty years ago, she said, she and her husband were en route by boat from Chicago to a point much further north when they were driven by a violent storm into the bay at Petoskey, where they remained for two or three days, during which time she noticed that she was entirely free from hay fever. At that time the medical profession was giving hay fever an extensive study, so when this lady and her husband returned to Chicago they related their experience and suggested that as Petoskey was so accessible to Chicago, the hay feverites form a colony and try out the place the next summer, which they did. They found Petoskey a straggling Indian village, with positively no accommodations for visitors, but as time went on and people continued to go there each year for hay fever, it gradually grew into a flourishing up-to-date town with several thousand inhabitants.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"GRAND OLD MAN" OF 137TH

Kansas Editor Recently Received Distinguished Service Cross for Valor in Action.

A newspaper editor who left off lambasting the Germans in his columns and went to lambast them in person is John H. O'Connor of the Winfield (Kan.) Courier, who recently received the Distinguished Service Cross for exceptional valor in action.

The "grand old man" of the One hundred and thirty-seventh infantry regiment during its service in France, Editor O'Connor ably commanded a battalion during the heaviest fighting and won the highest rank of foreign army colonel. In September, 1918, in Montfrehoun Wood he received a note penciled on the back of an old envelope, telling him he was the highest officer left in the regiment. Forthwith he assumed command of his own unit, added on all other troops in the wood, organized a brigade front, beat off two Boche attacks and directed the advance on Exermont.

Mr. O'Connor attended the first caucus of the American Legion in Paris in 1919 and was one of the newspaper men who drew the resolution giving the Legion its name.

Harassing Wheat Pests.

Plant pests cause the loss of millions of bushels of wheat in the United States, and if all the wheat now destroyed annually by these pests could be saved and made into flour the United States Department of Agriculture says it would add approximately 29,102,700 barrels to the yearly output of the nation. The annual production of wheat in this country for the four-year period 1916 to 1919 inclusive, was 753,819,500 bushels. The annual loss from disease during this period was 147,318,000 bushels. While it is not possible entirely to eliminate wheat diseases it is possible to much reduce the toll. One branch of investigation in the bureau of plant industry is to work out the preventive measures for the diseases of all cereal crops.

Tree Saved by Washington.

An oak whose life Washington saved in 1791 is still flourishing on the Hampton plantation, Santee river, South Carolina, and has been nominated for a place in the Hall of Fame for trees, with a history that is being compiled by the American Forestry association. The nomination is made by J. Danforth Bush of Wilmington, Del., who informs the association that the best of care is given the famous tree by Col. Henry Rutledge, the owner of the plantation. The beautiful old home was built by Daniel Horry, a French Huguenot, about 1750. Washington persuaded Mrs. Horry to abandon her plan to cut down the tree.

Birth of Photography.

Photography was cradled in obscurity. Centuries ago Lacock, in Wiltshire, was a thriving town, famous for its tapestries. Today it has a far greater claim to fame, yet few people outside the county have ever heard of it.

It was at Lacock that William Fox Talbot produced the first photograph. The event preceded the announcement of the discovery of the daguerreotype by four years, and five years later—in 1839—Fox Talbot startled the scientific world by exhibiting a series of photogenic drawings, as he called his photographs, at the Royal institute.

Fox Talbot's village resting place is marked only by a plain stone—a monument which has been the subject of very few photographs.—London Mail.

Calling in Cairo.

Foreigners who are compelled to live in Cairo sometimes take up their residence in a remote portion of the city which is not laid out with any regard to the convenience of persons who are finding their way about. There is no system in the arrangement of the streets or houses and strangers have great difficulty in finding any particular location. A well-known doctor undertook to furnish directions by which the house of a friend could be reached by a third party. Here are the "directions:" "The M—'s live in a house without a number in a street without a name next door to an Armenian butcher who, I think, has no sign, west of Abdin palace. The staircase has eighty-seven steps."

Made Him Look Small.

A young and newly married couple were entertaining their friends, and among the guests was one whose continued rudeness made him extremely objectionable to the rest of the company. His conduct, although most unbearable, was put up with for some time, until at supper he held up on his fork a piece of meat which had been served to him, and in a vein of intended humor, he looked round and remarked:

"Is this pig."

This immediately drew forth the remark from a quiet-looking individual sitting at the other end of the table: "Which end of the fork do you refer to?"

Where the Fish Swarm.

There are rich fishing banks of huge extent around Iceland, but the greatest are around Newfoundland, and are so rich that fishing vessels congregate there from America and France, as well as Great Britain.

These banks are very interesting, for they are shallows which overhang the abysmal depths which fall quite close by to as much as 4,000 fathoms, or more than four miles sheer depth.

There are fine banks all along the Greenland coast, and plenty of fish on them. But here trawling is impossible, for the icebergs have covered the bottom with enormous boulders.

Perquisites.

"There are very few perquisites nowadays."

"I'm glad of it," replied Senator Sorghum. "Perquisites in the old days were regarded by too many penurious people as an excuse for holding a public servant down to an inadequate salary."

Mouse Wore Diamond.

Some women may be afraid of some mice, but when a mouse gets civilized and swagger enough to run around wearing diamonds—well, the heroine of this story tells it, and responsibility begins and ends with her.

Miss Genevieve Allen of New York, head of the abandonment bureau of District Attorney Swan's office, returned from a vacation in Maine to find a mouse cavorting on the floor of her office with a diamond gleaming from its tail.

Miss Allen realizing, perhaps, that she could never get away with the story without something resembling proof, caught that mouse. Whether she did it with gas, hypnotism or a depth bomb may never be known, but she got close enough to extract a diamond earring from the mouse's tail though she let the mouse get away without attempting to arrest it for burglary. The earring was turned over to Acting District Attorney Bunton.

Rooster Refused to Crow.

On the ground that the crowing of the rooster in her poultry run prevented school children learning their lessons a Potsdam woman appeared before the local judge, charged with being a public nuisance. The woman having declared the rooster was old and hoarse, and that therefore his crow could not be a source of disturbance to the school children, the judge adjourned the case to enable the bird to appear.

The rooster, however, which came to the court in a crowded conveyance that of a codefendant, refused to crow, and the judge, after making some remarks about the valuable loss of legal time this occasioned, dismissed the case.—North China Herald.

The Hold-Up Game

You have no chance to win when you meet the hold-up man. If you stick up your hands as directed, your cash goes right then. If you resist you may be injured, possibly killed, and your money goes just the same.

Hold-ups are of common occurance. If you carry your money around on your person you are taking big chances. There is one way to beat the hold-up man. Deposit your money in this bank and pay your bills by check. It is the safe, convenient, modern way and leaves nothing for the highwayman to gobble up.

THREE MEN

ONE— goes around incurring small debts here and there. Doesn't know how he will meet them; only knows they mount up alarmingly fast.

ANOTHER— doesn't owe anybody anything yet, but he's running on a dangerously narrow margin, and wearing himself out trying to keep up with the game.

ANOTHER— saves a little each week from his earnings and puts it in the bank. He's finding a lot that's worth while in life.

These represent three characteristic types. Do you find yourself among them?

DIFFERENT TYPES SEEN IN SENT SPRING ADVERTISING

New York, Nov. 1.—The baseball boy, the printer devil and the workaday clerk are going to have their pictures on the billboards and signboards this winter. They replace some of the swagger young misses in low-cut pelisse for several seasons for the artists hired by collar and clothes manufacturers. Not a few of these concerns have concluded that the orchid is not the flower of young American manhood, and they are going in for sunflowers.

They say the buying public does not like the lily-pink-cheeked man who have been showing the readers of the advertisements what to wear. They seemed to have nothing to do but watch the polo ponies, incidentally peer at yachts in the cove or ogle the football players on the field below them in order to swap small talk with six in vivid sweaters and very bright sport skirts.

SENATOR WATSONS CHARGES.

Senator Thomas E. Watson of Georgia refuses to submit to the special committee appointed by the senate the proof of the charges made by him against officers of the United States army, that they ordered the execution of American soldiers in France without trial. This committee was named after he had refused to deal with the military affairs committee. Now he declares that he intends to proceed with his evidence in the open senate.

Here are his charges:

"How many senators know that a private soldier was frequently shot by his officers because of some complaint against insolence, and that they had gallows upon which men were hanged, day after day, without court-martial or any other form of trial? I had and have the photograph of one of those gallows upon which twenty-one white boys had already been executed at sunrise when the photograph was taken, and there were others waiting in the camp jails to be hanged morning after morning.

Senator New read into the record a report to had from the adjutant general's office, showing that there were 28 instances of death imposed upon members of the A. E. F. in France, all of them by court martial. Nine of them were carried into effect. Of the others 12 were modified, and the remainder were disapproved. Six men were put to death for crimes against women, and three for murder. No soldier was executed for offenses against military law.

That is the official record against Senator Watson's charge that 21 soldiers were hanged on a gallows, of which he produced a photograph—"the gallows being in a little dell in a clump of pines behind the camp, where nobody could see it." And if "a court martial or any other court condemns a man to death for just cause, why should they hide the gallows and hide the crime?"

It is not believable that such things as Senator Watson describes were condoned in the American Army. However, the charges are so astounding that they cannot be permitted to be disallowed. In this connection, it is worthy of note that Senator Borah saw the same gallows picture and heard the same statement in substance which Senator Watson presented Tuesday. The Idaho member did not press the matter to the senate because he could not get proof. It would seem as if the senate could not ignore the charges which have come from one end of the country to the other. If Senator Watson will not submit his proof to the special committee named to receive it, then it becomes a matter of forcing his hand. The senate has ample power of discipline.

RED CROSS WORKING FOR HEALTHIER U. S.

Thousands Aided by Instruction in Care of the Sick, Food Selection and First Aid.

How the American Red Cross guides thousands of persons to health is shown in a summary of the society's activities in the health field based upon the annual report for the last fiscal year. Through its Nursing Service, its Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick courses, nutrition classes, First Aid classes, Life-Saving classes and Health Centers and in numerous other ways designed to acquaint masses of citizens with proper methods of living, the Red Cross carried its message of health into all parts of the country.

The work of the Red Cross during the war in its traditional field of nursing, furnishing the military and naval establishments of the nation with 19,486 nurses, is well known. And there are today 37,787 nurses registered with the American Red Cross and subject to call in emergency. During the fiscal year, 1,551 Red Cross nurses were accepted for assignment to Government service, 388 by the Army and Navy and 1,163 by the United States Public Health Service.

In addition to the nurses enrolled by the Red Cross for Government service, the Red Cross itself employed a total of 1,348 public health nurses in the United States and Europe. By far the greatest number was employed in the United States, 1,257, while 91 were in foreign service.

Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick classes, giving thorough instruction in the proper care of the sick in instances where the illness is not so serious as to require professional nursing care, during the fiscal year numbered 5,179. A statistical picture of the Red Cross operations in this field follows:

New classes formed during year	5,179
Classes completed during year	6,209
New students enrolled	101,068
Students completing course	73,432

What the Red Cross accomplished in giving proper instruction through its Nutrition Service is indicated by the following table:

New classes formed during year	142
Classes completed during year	180
New students enrolled	2,311
Students completing course	2,013

In addition to the above, a total of 72,000 children were given instruction in the proper selection and preparation of foods.

Through its 260 Health Centers, the Red Cross reached 90,252 persons. In these Health Centers, 4,015 health lectures were given and 780 health exhibits held.

In the United States last year, 75,432 persons were killed and 3,500,000 injured in industrial accidents. To prevent this enormous waste the Red Cross held 5,100 first aid classes with a total of 104,000 students enrolled.

RED CROSS RESCUED 600,000 FROM DEATH

Spent $1,200,000 for Relief of Famine Sufferers in China Last Year.

To help overcome conditions of acute distress in five famine stricken provinces of Northern China, where millions of persons were affected by an unprecedented shortage of food, the American Red Cross during the first fiscal year spent more than $1,200,000, $1,000,000 of which was contributed directly by National Headquarters and the remainder by various groups interested in the welfare of China.

Through the wide relief operations thus made possible it is estimated that more than 600,000 famine sufferers were saved from starvation.

To the end that similar prompt relief measures by the organization may always be possible the Red Cross is asking continued support by the American people by universal renewal of membership at the Annual Red Cross Roll Call, November 11 to 24.

The method of relief employed by the American Red Cross in its operations in China was particularly effective, for in addition to saving hundreds of thousands of lives it provided China with more than 900 miles of permanent roads that are sorely needed to prevent a recurrence of famine. At one time the Red Cross employed 74,000 Chinese workmen, paying them in food for themselves and dependents, this food being brought in from Manchuria and elsewhere.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

"That the season has come when, alike in pursuance of a devout people's time-honored custom in grateful recognization of favoring national fortunes, it is proper that the President should summon the nation to a day of devotion, of thanksgiving for blessings bestowed, and of prayer for guidance in models of life that that may deserve continuance of Divine favor."

Foremost among our blessings is the return of peace, and the approach to normal ways again. The year has brought us again into relations of amity with all nations, after a long period of struggle and turbulence. In thankfulness therefore we may well unite in the hope that Providence will vouchsafe approval to the things we have done, the aims which have guided us, the aspirations which have inspired us.

"We shall be prospered as we shall deserve prosperity, seeking not alone for the material things but for those of the spirit as well, earnestly trying to help others, asking, before all else, the privilege of service. As we render thanks anew for the exaltation which came to us, we may lovingly petition that moderation and wisdom shall be granted to rest upon all who are in authority in the tasks they must discharge. Their minds will be steadied, their purpose strengthen, in answer to our prayers.

"Ours has been a favored nation in the bounty which God has bestowed upon it. The great trial of humanity though indeed we bore our part as well as we were able, left us comparatively little scarred. It is for us to recognize that we have been thus favored, and when we gather at our altars to offer up thanks, we will do well to ponder in humility and all sincerity, our purpose to prove deserving. We have been raised up and preserved in national power and consequence as part of a plan whose wisdom we can not question. Thus believing, we can do no less than hold our nation the willing instrument of the Providence which has so wonderfully favored us. Opportunity for very great service awaits us if we shall prove equal to it. Let our prayers be raised for direction in the right paths. Under God, our responsibility is great, to our own first, to all men afterward, to all mankind in God's own justice.

"Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, do hereby designate Thursday, the 24th day of November, to be observed by the people as a day of Thanksgiving, devotion and prayer, urging that at their hearthsides and their altars they will give thanks for all that has been rendered unto them, and will pray for a continuance of the Divine fortune which has been showed so generously upon this nation.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the seal of the United States of America.

"Done at the capital of the United States, this 31st day of October, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and twenty-one and of the Independence of the United States the one-hundred and forty-six.

By the President:

Warren G. Harding.

Charles E. Hughes,

Secy of State."

NOW! SOME NERVE!

Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, who has been ordered to vacate "Bergdoll Castle," which the government maintains is owned by her son, Grover C. Bergdoll, notorious draft evader and fugitive from justice, has sent the government a bill at the rate of $10,000 a year for her services as caretaker of the dwelling.

THE VILLAGE BOOTLEGGER

Under a spreading chestnut tree
The village bootlegger stands;
A mighty popular man is he,
Folks like to shake his hands.
For some of the booze he has in stock
Was made in foreign lands.

His kale is crisp, and green, and long
His face is like the tan;
His brow is wet with honest sweat
He earns whate'er he can,
And looks the whole world in the face
For he sells to any man.

Week in, week out, from morn 'til night,
You can hear the great distillery
And the owner thus Honor bow;
And he faithfully tends to all his friends
When the evening sun is low,

And neighbors coming home from work
Look in at the open door;
They love to taste his clever brew
And always ask for more;
And dollar bills around him fly
Like snuff from a threshing floor.

To him—rebuke—sorrowing.
Onward through life he goes;
Each evening sees a sale begun
Each morning sees its close;
Yet nothing puzzles the wills
He carries a day's repose.

Thanks, thanks to thee, my worthy friend
For the lesson thou hast taught!
Thus at the threshing mill of life
Our fortunes must be wrought;
And thoughtfully I ponder on
Wise proverbs thou hast brought.

ONE QUALITY-
One Size Package

All our skill, facilities, and lifelong knowledge of the finest tobaccos are concentrated on this one cigarette—CAMEL.

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing, and only one, is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity—that is CAMEL QUALITY.

RUSSIA FOR CLOTHS
FASHION FOR CUTS

American Couch Covers and Tablecloths Become Shawls and Underclothing.

AMATEUR EXPORTERS ACTIVE

Used American Clothing in Large Quantities Sent to People in Dire Distress Through National Lutheran Council, Shipping Brokers.

Fashions in Russia this season show a distinct North American influence. Skirts have a cut precisely like the prevailing mode in Philadelphia, sleeves hang at an angle familiar in Sioux Falls, and sweaters will be quite the rage. In fact, most of the wearing apparel over there is now being imported direct from the States. No group of factories have a monopoly on these shipments but in towns and country places all over the country amateur exporters are setting up a flourishing trade with Russia through their shipping brokers, the National Lutheran Council, at New York City.

Boys and girls are collecting last winter's things that they have outgrown, sending them to a market where children are not taking larger sizes this year. Thousands and thousands of Russian youngsters would be swallowed up in the clothes American children of like age would burst out of after a week or two. Their last year's clothes would do, and many times even year-before-last's, if they only had such a thing. For styles have been in the reverse over there for several years. It has about now got to where nothing much is left but motley combinations of salvaged 1914 models and two sacks. Children, even little babies, are wearing their father's old coats, often two to a coat. So many of the fathers no longer need coats. Horse blanket shawls are extensively in vogue, though they are rather scratchy, and tablecloths for underwear are so sought after that the whole country is practically snatched bare of them. Dining tables are almost out of use anyway. Little girls who have mothers and are extremely fortunate, wear loosely made dresses of chintz and cretonne that look like curtains and couch covers. In fact, they were curtains and couch covers in a previous incarnation.

Apparel shipped from the United States is immensely popular and is hardly unpacked before the eager crowds of customers take the last garment, dons it proudly on the spot and wear them home. That is, where they have a home. Russians are most adept to and wear these creations from another continent with perfect ease. Imagine the surprise a Nebraska corn grower would set up at the first sight of baths, evening gowns and other fabric dress. Lined up over there, kids in overcoats and rubbers from high tops, heels, fur collars, security-black bearded Russians get up on their back door with it a granite, but the city merchant with trousers, vests. They may shave a bit as much as the close fitted shoulder seams allow and then go on about the day's business. Most of the business is along lines of exploration and food products. They search day and night for something to eat.

These non-professional American exporters are very busy now establishing the modes for winter and spring in Russia and all through Central Europe. Schoolgirls will be wearing Beaudry dresses, wool skirts and overblouses. One-piece gingham frocks and slippers are going strong. Overcoats, sweaters, small boys' Buster Browns, Oliver Twists, and plain knicker suits, such as are hanging useless in a million American clothes closets, are in great demand. There is a steady market for rings and diadems and also for shoes—brogues, high shoes, sports shoes and heavy soled oxfords. Baby clothes have taken a brisk flurry, and all knit goods are speedily shipped up.

The cost of exporting is extremely low and there is no duty. In packages, bales, and barrels, clothing is sent to the National Lutheran Council warehouses, 31 Perry street, New York City, where it is promptly shipped to Russia and other parts of Europe at 4 cents a pound. A whole family can be outfitted with $1.00 transportation charge from New York.

QUAINT SPOILS AROUSE ITALY'S CURIOSITY

Italy got five totally unexpected and rather bewildering spoils under the Treaty of Versailles. Nothing like them had ever been seen in the land of Rome. They were Lutheran Churches in the Southern Tyrol with School, Deaconess Home and Hospitals. Being totally ignorant of all things Lutheran, and somewhat curious about their new possessions, the Italian government decided to let them alone and see what happened.

Things were pretty rocky for awhile. Without the support of a Mother Church, these suddenly transplanted institutions in a strange, foreign-speaking nation were headed straight for bankruptcy. The European Commissioner of the National Lutheran Council heard of their embarrassment, paid them a visit and saw the heartbreaking economies and hard work of these pastors, deaconesses and teachers in the face of apparently certain failure, and saved the day with a check. Their life has thus been insured another year.

High School Notes

Instructor says is actually quiet as a cemetery for some of our high school gaiety. A number of them found out last week that there really are teachers who can act like human beings and have some fun. And say do you know there were really some good looking girls among them!

One week of vacation has passed but when you come to think about it we really don't have such a bad time after all.

Armistice Day is coming and Xmas vacation will soon be here not forgetting Thanksgiving, of course.

Don't fail to see the football game Friday between our dearly beloved (?) Portville and the dear High School. This is the last game of season and we need the money. Any way, if you don't get the biggest thirty-five cents worth you ever had we will refund your money. Both teams are out for blood and it might be a good idea to establish a small hospital on the field. Sort of a safety first idea you know.

It might be a good plan to keep purely personal matters out of class, even in joking, feelings are sometimes hurt.

ELECTION RETURNS.

Hagman, both for four years.

Buffalo and Rochester elected Republicans. In Buffalo, however, the present Mayor, George S. Buck, a Republican, was defeated by Frank X. Schwab, also a Republican, who ran on a platform declaring for an amendment to the Volstead act to permit the sale of light wines and beer. Republicans carried Elmira, the vote there being in the nature of a Republican landslide.

Pittsburgh elected William A. Magee, former member of the Public Service Confession and candidate for Mayor on the Republican ticket, was a victor over William N. McNair, Democratic candidate.

It was announced in Philadelphia that Judge William I. Schaffer, of Delaware county was elected over his opponent to the State Supreme Court bench, for a term of twenty-one years by the Republicans of Pennsylvania. His Democratic opponent was Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell of the Philadelphia Municipal Court. Justice Schaffer was appointed to the supreme bench last winter by Governor Sproul to succeed the late Judge John Stewart who was killed by a trolley car near his home in Chambersburg last Thanksgiving Day.

TO PROTECT MAILS.

Washington, Nov. 8.—With orders to shoot to kill if necessary to prevent mail robberies one thousand marines were ordered to duty today as guards of mail trains and trucks and at post offices in 15 cities. The men will be armed with pistols and sawed-off shot guns. Postmaster General Hays announced [illegible] with Congress to have the marines replaced [illegible] to be replaced eventually by a special force recruited from the postal service.

DR. OSTRANDER BACK FROM LEGION CONVENTION.

Describing the hilarious scenes at Kansas City during the National Convention of the American Legion Dr. W. A. Ostrander, Bucktail Post delegate, who returned home several days ago, stated that anyone who did not have a good time in that atmosphere of good fellowship was either cross-eyed or a confirmed grouch.

Doc wishes it strictly understood that he had a good time, anyhow.

He states that the Western cow boys on seeing Foch, Pershing, and other notables, would whip out great pistols and fire them into the air, perhaps just to make Foch think he was back on the western front of France.

Also he tells of the greeting the notables received in tremendous parade. Guests in all hotels along the line of march ripped open pillows from the bedroom, and showered down feathers until the streets looked like a snowstorm was taking place.

Although New Orleans was picked out as the site of the next annual convention, the following year, it will likely come to Philadelphia, it is said. This is what the Pennsylvania members are working for at least.

$10,099,000 AID FOR VETERANS

Red Cross Provides Friendly Service of Many Kinds to Army of Disabled.

BULK OF WORK BY CHAPTERS

2,397 of These Are Helping Ex-Service Men Obtain Benefits U. S. Provides.

One field of Red Cross service alone, that of assisting disabled veterans of the World War, entails expenditures $1,000,000 greater than the aggregate receipts of the Annual Roll Call of 1920, the American Red Cross announces in a statement urging a widespread increase in membership at the Annual Roll Call, November 11 to 24. At the present time National Headquarters and the nation-wide chain of Chapters of the Red Cross is spending approximately $10,000,000 annually for the relief of disabled ex-service men and their families, while the aggregate receipts from last year's Roll Call were approximately $8,000,000.

It is in the 2,280 of the 3,000 Red Cross Chapters which still are helping solve the veteran's problem of adjusting himself to a normal civilian status that the greater part of the cost of this service is borne. Of the total sum spent for veterans' relief last year, National Headquarters expended a total of more than $2,600,000, while the remaining disbursement of approximately $7,000,000 represents the contribution of Chapters in this country-wide effort to assist the Government in providing the aid sorely needed by these men and their families.

An Ever Expanding Problem

That the problem of the disabled service man is ever-expanding and probably will not reach the peak before 1925, is the assertion of well-informed Government officials and that 2,397 Red Cross Chapters regard it as their most important work is evidence that the expansion is in nowise confined to a particular section but is, on the contrary, nation-wide. At the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1921, there were 26,534 disabled service men in the 1,632 United States Public Health Service, Contract and Government Hospitals and Soldiers Homes, and that number is increasing at a rate of 1,000 a month.

Thousands of these men receiving medical treatment, compensation and vocational training from the Government today, started their efforts to obtain them through the Red Cross Chapter. The Chapter, acting as the disabled man's agent in claims against the Government, informs the man as to the procedure necessary to gain for him that which is provided him by Federal statute. His applications for compensation, medical treatment and training are properly filed with the aid of the Red Cross Chapter.

Many Forms of Assistance

If there is delay before the man's claim is acted upon, the Red Cross Chapter lends the man money to meet the imperative needs of himself and his dependents.

Most vital to the man's gaining full benefit from the Government's care is keeping his mind free from worry about his home. Keeping the veteran's family from hardship of every kind and informing him of its welfare is another province of the Chapter. Free from fear on this score, the man's recovery and advancement usually is rapid.

Every month during the last year, the American Red Cross has given service of one kind or another to an average of 129,215 former service men and their families. An indication of the extent of the faith reposed in the Red Cross Chapters is to be found in the fact that there were 356,544 requests for friendly aid in the solution of personal problems.

448 Workers in Hospitals

While the man prior to entering Government care deals largely with the Chapter, afterward he comes into contact with the service provided by National Headquarters. There are 448 Red Cross workers in the United States Public Health Service and contract hospitals and other institutions in which these men are being cared for, whose duty is to provide for his recreation, help him with his compensation claims, keep him in touch with his family in short, meeting his every need outside of that provided by the Government. While these are a few of the responsibilities of the National Organization, they are by no means all. Among other Red Cross accomplishments for the year are:

It handled 70,732 allotment and allowance claims.

It delivered through its Chapter organization 63,655 allotment checks to veterans who had moved from the addresses furnished to the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

It provided a special fund of $10,000 for medical assistance to men under vocational training.

It made 82,495 loans totaling $450,000 to men taking vocational training, of which 85 per cent has been repaid.

CHRISTLIKE WOMEN EUROPE'S MAINSTAY

Lutheran Deaconesses Necessary to Morale of Discouraged Communities.

A church in gay language means a church, and so does a school and hospital, but Europeans dedicate homes rather in the translating. To the average American "deaconess home" suggests a stony building of sober line, whose tall spare inmates move, if they move at all, overspread with white lawn strainers beneath their chins. Like Hepzibah and Uncle Jaffrey's days, pottering around with window boxes and hot-house. All wrong!

Webster's Unabridged fails to enlighten him, but the National Lutheran Council, with headquarters at New York City, is spreading the definition far and wide. A deaconess home means a social welfare colony maintained by those women church workers. A hospital, maybe, home for cripples, and the aged, schools for the deaf and blind, a day nursery, milk station, and a social service bureau, are the institutions that usually make up one of these welfare centers. In America there are hundreds of them, multiplied since the days of Europe where they have existed by the thousand for many generations. In European cities of any size they serve the neighboring communities and have closer touch with the people than any other organization. Nobody is as busy as these hardy, rosy cheeked women who give their full time from morning till night, or from night until morning, managing and running their big plants that take care of people.

Deaconess homes over there are not retreats in any sense. They are active, progressive, public places. But even so they are pretty independent of the outside world. They do their own work and have their own food supply. The deaconesses make use of their varied hobbies, so there are bee specialists, poultry experts, gardeners, dairy farmers, and artificial who know all about printing and spraying, and keeping the children from picking green fruit. Most of them, of course, do this work during their recreation hour after finishing a day of nursing, teaching, sewing, or visiting the poor. They are very handy about the place. A carpenters' strike would be a small matter to them because there is always some demure-eyed sister who can wield an accurate hammer.

This sketches the average deaconess home in Central Europe in normal times. Such times are past history to a great degree, antedating 1914. Since then war has crippled the work so that it is scarcely recognizable. Their houses were shelled, robbed and burned. Sisters were shot and carried captive. But those who were left kept steadily at their posts, and braver, harder work at reconstruction is not being done in the world. Communities are so wholly dependent upon them. Nobody else knows how to do anything in times of distress. Relief funds sent by American Lutherans have been largely dispensed through deaconesses in each town. By this simple financing they are enabled to handle the emergencies through the channels of their own regular work. Some of the welfare projects have been restored and are being heavier work than ever before, though with depleted staffs and in bitter poverty.

In the World Service Campaign that the National Lutheran Council is to conduct the last two weeks in October to raise $1,250,000 for European Relief, deaconess homes have a large place in the budget for the coming year. From Petrograd to the southern Tyrol, and from Cologne to Constantinople, these colonies of mercy are to be reinforced, so that each in its own sphere can be a healing refuge to the sick, afflicted and oppressed in those war and famine-stained lands.

LONG DIVISION

A New Problem in International Affairs.

If $20.00 is sent by courier 700 miles by rail, steamship, and horse cart, and divided among 100 pastors and their families, how much does each pastor receive? The answer depends altogether upon the geography involved. This time the pastors happen to be in and around Moscow, so the answer is 200,000 rubles each. Dr. John A. Morehead, European Commissioner for the National Lutheran Council that operates in 17 countries over there, met a Moscow merchant in Berlin in the summer, who possessed one of the rarest scraps of paper in the world—a passport from the Soviets—and who offered his services as confidential messenger to the Bishop of Moscow.

Dr. Morehead checked out $20.00 and by the time the good merchant reached Moscow, by way of the Baltic Sea, through Riga, and a journey by cart and by foot over a distance where the railroad had rusted out, he was weighed down with 4,000,000 rubles. These were the first gifts on word from the outside that the Lutherans had had in three years. The money bought one meal a day of black bread and rice, for nearly a week, for each family, with a little change left over where they were extremely economical, sometimes even enough to buy a candle.

The symptoms of drooling mowers, cultivators and threshers is a specific cure for shellshock. Of the thousands of World war veterans who turned to agriculture in the termination of hostilities, [illegible] all have recovered from the effects of shellshock. This is shown by a recent survey which is being studied by the national organization of the American Legion. The report likewise indicates that shellshock victims who settled in the cities have not yet regained their health.

The experiment of sending shellshock cases to the farms was tried with success in Canada, where more than 25,000 soldiers have been treated under the soldiers' re-establishment act. The government has loaned more than $10,000,000 to these men, and their first year's crop was valued at approximately $14,000,000. Today the average soldier-farmer, the survey concludes, is enjoying ruddy health and real happiness.
